B.S IN COGNITIVE SCIENCE. SPE.DESIGN & INTERACTION

UC SAN DIEGO

Design related course:

Prototyping (Explores cognitive principles of thinking, topics: experience design, rapid prototyping, sketching, bodystorming, cardboard modeling, UI hacking, and design theory user testing + interviews, and user feedbacks analysis)

Design at Large (exploring contemporary issues California is facing, collaborating with California 100 and UCSD Design Lab)

Usability and Information Architecture (Examines the cognitive basis of successful web and multimedia design. Topics: information architecture, navigation, usability, graphic layout, transaction design, and how to understand user interaction.)

Neuroscience related course:

Language (exploring central questions of language science including language topics in Machine Learning)

Learning, Memory and Attention (Topics include conditioning, automaticity, divided attention, memory systems, and the nature of mental)

Neuroanatomy and Physiology (focuses on principles of brain organization, from neurons to circuits to functional networks, explores developmental plasticity, neuronal connectivity, cellular communication, complex signaling, and how these various dimensions form functional brain systems.)

A.S IN ARCHITECTURE, DESIGN CONCENTRATION

MT. SAN ANTONIO COLLEGE

Design related course:

Design I- Elements of Design (design process including conceptualization, visualization, form making, presentation, expression, and site analysis of physical, contextual, and cultural aspects of design and the urban environment)

Design II- Architecture Design (focus on architectural site analysis, design conceptualization, form making, program development and presentation.)

Architectural Presentation (Analysis and preparation including schematic and final design, architectural models, oral presentation techniques, board layouts using hand-drawn and computer-aided techniques)

Architecture Rendering and Illustration (Architectural and interior illustration including perspective drawing, sketching, shades and shadows, entourage, and color application utilizing various media)

Advanced Digital Media, Generative, and Algorithmic Design and Illustration (Architectural computational and algorithmic design focus on parametric design, design mathematics, visual interface coding, and the development of digital models from computational definitions.)

Architectural CAD and BIM (3-D Computer Aided Design and Drafting (CAD) and Building Information Modeling (BIM) for architectural design and design development)

Science Concepts for Sustainable Design and Environmental Control (design with sustainable strategies with consideration in human thermal comfort, thermal energy, solar geometry, insolation, and energy conservation)

Jan 2018

A.S IN FINE ART

MARYMOUNT CALIFORNIA UNIVERSITY

Design related course:

Drawing (sketching)

Digital Foundations (design with adobe creative cloud suites)

Digital 3D Animation 1 (animation with 3D Maya)

Beginning Play Production (stage setting design and construction)
